Re: Request for Advisory Opinion Under Kentucky Campaign Finance Law

Dear Sir:

I am a U.S. citizen, residing in Kentucky. I intend to engage in a variety of activities promoting and opposing various public policy issues, ballot questions, and candidates for political office together with other like-minded U.S. citizens who reside in Kentucky. We plan to operate under the name "ConstitutionalLimits.com" as an unincorporated group of citizens and to voluntarily pool our funds to print fliers and yard signs, put up billboards, and advertise in print media and on radio and television. We expect that some individuals may contribute more than $1500, and we may spend more than $3,000.

In case Nos. 1999-153, 1999-157, 1999-154, and 1999-158, the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance refused to apply the campaign finance laws to The Courier-Journal, dismissing the cases on the basis of 1st Amendment rights. During the hearing, it was stated that the 1st Amendment rights of the largest publishing corporation are the same as those of the most ordinary citizen.

We believe that, as citizens of Kentucky, under the Kentucky Constitution, under the U.S. Constitution, and under the Kentucky campaign finance law, we have the same rights as a newspaper or other media to exercise our freedom of speech and of the press. Therefore, we request an advisory opinion stating that we will not be required to register or file reports under any section of KRS 121, the Kentucky campaign finance law.

Sincerely,
